

Baku, Azerbaijan

November 2015: Azerbaijan is known as the Land of Fire. The tallest buildings in Baku are built to look like flames complete with a nighttime LED light show that simulate a fire. There is a mountainside that constantly burns, and the ancient Atashgah Fire Temple was used by Hindus, Sikhs and Zoroastrians as a place to worship fire.

Easily accessible oil and gas deposits under the ground have made Azerbaijan a rich country and the capital Baku shows the wealth.

Baku Funikulyoru

Baku Funikulyoru at Night

Baku at Night

House of Government

Palace of the Shirvanshahs

Museum of Literature

Catapult on the City Walls

Maiden's Tower

Atashgah Zoroastrian Fire Temple

Yanar Dag

Caravan Saray Restaurant